

Rooted in Wyoming welcomes intern

Rooted in Wyoming welcomes Hannah Morneau to their staff through a partnership with the Sheridan College Foundation and Homer and Mildred Scott Foundation.

The Homer A. & Mildred Scott Foundation Internship is a unique opportunity for Sheridan College students to gain practicum experience closely related to their field of study while the participating non-profit organization is able to move their mission forward with the aid of the student intern. Sheridan College Foundation facilitates the partnership between the student intern and the non-profit organization.

"I love watching plants grow. I love getting my hands dirty. I am excited to work with Rooted in Wyoming doing things I love and experiencing new opportunities!" said Morneau.

Morneau, a double major in horticulture and rangeland management at Sheridan College, applied for the internship in January of this year. Since beginning work, she has completed a large seed cataloging project and helped organize the seed starting plan for spring.

"We were thrilled to learn that Hannah would be joining our staff this semester! The thirteen to eighteen hours a week allowed through the program is a tremendous benefit to us as an extra pair of hands. Hannah was a great fit for us," said Rooted in Wyoming Executive Director Lise Foy. "We have some amazing garden projects in place and are excited for Hannah's contribution. She is currently working to help develop and present our booth at the Early Childhood Festival on March 7 inside the Whitney Atrium at Sheridan College. Our booth will focus on the sensory experiences of vermicompost and planting pea seeds."

Hannah grew up gardening and preserving food with her family. She has worked at Sprouts Greenhouse in Lander for the past three years. Hannah is a graduate of ABEKA Academy, Online Homeschool/Pensacola Christian College and currently maintains a 3.8 GPA at Sheridan College. Her career goal possibilities include returning to Lander to help manager her family ranch, greenhouse work and grounds management.
